Academic Career

- Graduated in Economics in 1963, with a grade of 110/110 cum laude, under the guidance of Prof. Nicola Colletti, writing an experimental thesis on a Palermo manufacturing firm operating in the cotton business. On this occasion he also discussed a short thesis with Prof. Francesco Parrillo on economic dualism in Italy, dealing with the problem, already evident at that time, of the considerable gap between the bank lending rates in southern Italy and those in the rest of the country.
- Awarded a scholarship from the Italian Ministry of Education in 1963; a few months later he was appointed as voluntary assistant lecturer in Business Economics and Management and, later, as voluntary assistant lecturer in General and Applied Accountancy.
- Appointed Temporary Professor in Banking and Insurance Accountancy in the Academic Year 1968-69, being confirmed in this post in 1973. In 1980, he was appointed Associate Professor in the same subject.
- Elected as Director of the Institute of Accountancy when it was founded in 1984, a post he held until December 1992, when he took leave of absence, having been elected as a Member of Parliament. In 2001 the Department for Studies on Resources, Enterprise, Environment and Quantitative Methodologies (R.I.A.M.) was founded and the Institute was absorbed into it. Prof. Miceli was elected co-ordinator of the Accountancy Section and Deputy Director of the Department.
- Appointed in 1998 as a member of the Scientific Evaluation Commission for research financed as part of the POP Calabria 1994/1999 – Measure 4.4 “Scientific and Technological Research”.
